

INTERNATIONAL PAIN FOUNDATION ANNOUNCES OUR 2019 Community Impact Award Recipients

Press Release – October 8, 2019 – Phoenix, AZ

The International Pain Foundation (iPain) Is Proud to Announce Our Community Impact Award Recipients for 2019.

iPain Community Impact Award 2019 was created by the International Pain Foundation to recognize feature-length films and documentaries that change the pain community for the better. We have chosen to recognize 3 International documentaries for their positive impact on the chronic pain community in 2019.

Avicii: True Stories - Sweden - which explores footage of his life backstage as he toured all over the world. Avicii lived his final two years in severe chronic pain after a pancreatitis surgery, leading to untreated pain and eventual suicide. Available on Netflix

Eight Days: Living with Diabetes - USA/Jamaica - is the first ever doc-u-series that features five people living with certain chronic health conditions. The first season we brought five people living with diabetes to the lovely island of Jamaica. The new season (season 2) will feature five people living with Cancer released in 2020 on the FYI Network.

On A Scale of 1 to 10 - Canada - Chronic pain affects 1.5 billion worldwide and has triggered an opioid endemic with no solution in sight so far. Citrus Pie Media goes on a journey across North America, exploring various holistic therapies, modalities, mind body connections and lifestyle approaches to better deal with this crucial issue. In the process, they interview top experts who often challenge our traditional beliefs around chronic pain and open our minds to our bodies' innate power to heal. Availability listed at www.onascaleof1to10film.com.

The award recipients will be honored live at screening and panel discussion of the On A Scale of 1 to 10 film on November 14, 2019 in Los Angeles, CA. The UCLA Luskin Hotel: 425 Westwood Plaza Los Angeles, CA 90095. The recipients will be recognized in the event program as well as receive an award certificate.
